

SAVAGE WOMEN HEALTHY

The savage lives in the open, eats simple foods, knows nothing of household drudgery or social life, gets plenty of sleep and exercise and is perfectly healthy and strong, but the civilized woman is a slave to home duties and society, often becomes run-down, nervous and physically unfit to be a companion or wife. Our local druggists, Stone and Mercer, have a reliable, non-secret remedy that is a boon to such women, its component parts being peptonate of iron for the blood, the nourishing properties of beef peptone and the medicinal extracts of fresh, healthy cod's livers, all dissolved in a delicious native wine. It is really wonderful how rapidly weak, run-down women are built up by its use.—Advertisement.

MR. ROCKEFELLER IS PLEASED WITH VISIT

Declares That He Would Not Miss the Same for Anything.

FAIRMONT, Dec. 8.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., one of the world's greatest and most prominent financiers, who spent Monday and Tuesday in the Fairmont district, left last night for New York. His second was a busy day, spent, like the first, in the open. Then he found time to look at railroad properties which he controls, but not until he had seen more of the local territory which he declares is among the finest in the country.

As he stepped on his car which was to carry him out of the section, he remarked to friends made here that his trip had been an eventful one for him; that he would not have missed it and that it would be a pleasure to be able to come again. Thus a man whose interests have millions invested in the section is impressed and the visit of the young financial wizard is sure to result in industrial good to the city and upper valley.

Up before daylight yesterday morning Mr. Rockefeller had few idle minutes until he returned to the city from an inspection tour at 4 o'clock. Then he retired to his room for an hour's rest before train time. Local industries, the mining plant at New England and the coal fields on Helen's run, which are being tapped by his railroad, the Western Maryland, were places visited by him during the day.

What Mr. Rockefeller considered a most interesting event and one which impressed him greatly was the showing him of, and the complete explanation of the workings of the Consolidation Coal Company's first aid equipment and one of its prize crews of rescue men.

This was done at the office building of the company at an early hour. Eight members of the crew were equipped with Daeger helmets and other apparatus and as far as practicable, the young millionaire was shown how the crew thus fortified against poisonous gases and smoke, would perform if their services were needed in case of accident. He watched carefully, asked many questions and was deeply impressed with the exhibition which showed the local company second to none, not even the mine department of the federal government, in this humane feature of the mining industry.

Before picking up the fixed events on his schedule for the day, Mr. Rockefeller visited ex-Governor A. B. Fleming, who is confined to his home with illness. He enjoyed his call on Fairmont's venerable citizen and the two chatted pleasantly until Mr. Rockefeller was forced to leave on his tour. As he stepped into his machine Mr. Rockefeller was introduced to George M. Lilly, Fairmont's authority on roads and bridges, who described the excellence of the local streets and county highways.

Accompanied by many of the gentlemen who were with him the day before, Mr. Rockefeller visited the Owen's Glass Company's plant on the East Side; the Fairmont Mining Machinery Company's plant on the South Side; and then took a glimpse of the New England mines.

Boarding cars at Twelfth street, the tourists rode to Worthington and then drove to the Helen's Run field where the new plants were inspected and an excellent dinner enjoyed. Then the railroad improvements being done for the Western Maryland were looked over.

Mr. Rockefeller left the party at the Fairmont Farms on his return trip and an hour later drove with Senator Watson to the latter's car which was boarded for the ride to New York.

STOMACH MISERY QUICKLY VANISHES

Your money back if you want it in the way in which the Wells-Haymaker Company, the popular druggists, are selling Mi-o-na, the great dyspepsia remedy.

This is an unusual plan, but Mi-o-na has so much merit and is so almost invariably successful in relieving all forms of indigestion, that the Wells-Haymaker Company runs but little risk in selling under a guarantee of this kind.

Do not be miserable or make your friends miserable with your dyspepsia. Mi-o-na will help you. If it doesn't, tell Wells-Haymaker Company that you want your money back and they will cheerfully refund it.

A change for the better will be seen from the first few doses of Mi-o-na and its continued use will soon start you on the road to perfect digestion and enjoyment of food.

Mi-o-na has been so uniformly successful that every box is sold under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve. What fairer proposition could be made?

Wells and Haymaker give their personal guarantee of "money back if you want it" with every box of Mi-o-na that they sell. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.—Advertisement.
